Question 1 (13 marks)

Levi Bovalina owns and operates a small business selling computer games. To improve the experience of his customers he has decided to install two gaming consoles in his store to allow customers to try games before they buy.

To facilitate this, Levi made the following transactions:

- On 21 September 2019 he transferred ownership of his two personal gaming consoles to the business. These consoles cost a total of $850 plus GST when purchased new in 2016. They have an agreed value of $500 (Memo 24).
- On the same day he took 20 games from inventory for customers to use in the in-store gaming consoles. These items had a total cost price of $600 plus GST in total and are generally sold at a mark-up of 200% (Memo 25).

- a. Record these transactions in the General Journal.

Narrations are required.

6 marks

- b. Explain what is meant by 'fair value' in relation to the gaming consoles and explain how this satisfies the qualitative characteristic of faithful representation.

4 marks

- c. Explain, with reference to a qualitative characteristic, the need for memos.

- 7 April – sold 9 units to Barnleigh High School on credit for $700 each plus GST (Invoice X12)
  - 11 April – cash sale of 2 units for $700 each plus GST (Receipt T82)
  - 13 April – Barnleigh High School returned 1 unit as they found it had been damaged. They were granted a full credit (Credit Note B09).
  - 14 April – the owner determined that the unit returned was still saleable as the damage was minor. To facilitate selling this unit the owner has decided to reduce the selling price to $300 plus GST (Memo 7).
- a. Record these transactions in the Inventory Card provided. 4 marks
- b. Record the transaction dated 13 April 2019 in the General Journal.
A narration is not required. 3 marks
- c. Explain the nature of the transaction in Cheque 685. 2 marks
- d. Explain the principle of lower of cost and net realisable value as it applied to the transaction in Memo 7. 2 marks
- e. A friend of Mark Waters uses the Identified Cost method of assigning a cost price to inventory. Using this method, Mark determines that the inventory sold on 5 April came from the purchase on 4 April.
Explain the effect on profit if this transaction had been recorded using the Identified Cost assignment method rather than FIFO. 2 marks

Question 4 (5 marks)

The Federal Government developed an internship program titled PaTH, which was designed to reduce youth unemployment figures by offering employees $200 on top of their Centrelink payments. Businesses joining the program earn $1 000 and will receive an additional $10 000 for every intern they eventually hire on a full-time, ongoing basis.

Some members of society have expressed concern over this program, believing some businesses may use the 'cheap' labour to lower costs by denying full-time workers additional shifts and having many of their expenses funded by the Government.

Discuss the ethical issues for a business considering joining this program.

Question 8 (9 marks)

On 1 October 2019 Tom's Toys purchased a new vehicle to carry out deliveries for the business. The vehicle cost $48 000 plus GST and was financed by a loan from Car Finance Ltd. after the business paid $5 000 cash as a deposit.

It has been the practice of the business to depreciate non-current assets at a rate of 10% per annum on cost using the straight-line method. Tom's accountant has suggested that using the reducing balance method (at a rate of 25% per annum) may be more appropriate for this asset.

- a. Evaluate the accountant's statement. In your response, outline the implications of using the reducing balance method of depreciation on profit for the next two reporting periods.

Note: The business prepares reports annually on 31 December each year.

6 marks

- b. Prepare the General Journal entry necessary to record the purchase of the vehicle.

A narration is not required.
